To Whom It May Concern,

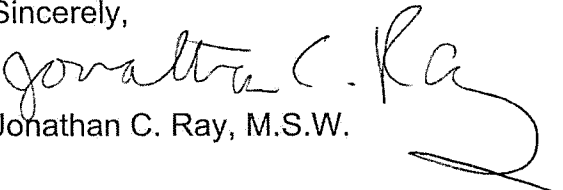

If you have not heard of Reginia Jones you soon will. She is running for the Fort Wayne Community School's Schoolboard. She is a bright light in the community and a true advocate for children.

A few words about Ms. Jones - she is determined to make certain every child is given the attention that they need and deserve. She has a strong resume of serving children as a foster parent, teen girl mentor and leader, volunteer for the Fort Wayne Urban League and professional case manager for at-risk children. Reginia has excellent ideas, she is hard working and just what the students of Fort Wayne Community Schools need.

Ms. Jones understands the importance of working effectively with others and is a team player. She is also the type of professional who will do what is required ethically and morally to get the job done.

Ms. Reginia Jones is an outstanding schoolboard candidate. I recommend her without any reservation. She is truly committed to children. She has demonstrated her commitment to children in her personal and professional life. Serving on the school board would a huge benefit to Fort Wayne Community Schools.

Sincerely,

Jonathan C. Ray, M.S.W.
